ABOUT OUR SPEAKER

Lori
Miller

Lori is married to Kent and they have two college-aged children; Kyle and Megan. Lori is a former Social Studies teacher and stay-at-home mom and after sensing a call to ministry, she attended Ashland Theological Seminary where she received a master's degree in Christian Formation. Lori currently serves as Minister of Discipleship at Martins Creek Mennonite Church in Holmes County. She has a passion for studying/teaching the Bible and applying its truths to daily life and describes her call as "helping people experience God's presence and transforming power in their lives." A life-long lover of sports, Lori has been a volleyball coach for most of her adult life. She currently coaches middle school volleyball at Central Christian School.
